Brief Description:

In the Age of Digitalization, have you ever thought that technology can be used to improve your business model? Corporate governance plays an important role in sustaining the business. A healthy, compliant, transparent and accountable corporate culture helps build reputation and maintain investors' confidence. Corruption, risks and mismanagement can be minimized by effective board communication.

If you are already holding your clients' meetings, AGMs/EGMs, trainings and workshops virtually, why not hold your board meetings virtually as well? The shift to virtual environments is now the new normal, understanding the challenges and key considerations help preserve good corporate governance, maintain performance and ensure effective decision-making at a distance.

In this webinar, our speakers will be covering the following:

- Entering the Age of Digitalization: Why should you consider going virtual for your board meeting
- Digitizing your Board: Key considerations of running a virtual board meeting
- Digitizing Corporate Governance: Practical tips for ensuring good corporate governance
- Going Virtual: Overcoming practical challenges and addressing frequently asked questions
- Modernizing your Business Model: Live demonstration and success stories sharing
