Contents 內容:

Digitalisation and automation are keys in the future operating model of most organisations. The pandemic has even accelerated the pace of digitalisation across different industries. Board of directors play an important role to shape the digital transformation of an organization and to ensure it can succeed in the future competitive environment.

Through use case sharing and demonstration we will illustrate how different technology solutions can improve business processes, reduce risks and create a flexible distance operating model to allow businesses to respond quickly to unforeseen circumstances. We will also share the Inland Revenue Department's recent tax practice and the different incentives and grants available to support business digital transformation.

Agenda:

1. Introduction of different technology solutions
2. Use case sharing about adopting technologies in digital transformation
3. Driving technologies through Hong Kong government funding supports
4. Leverage Tax incentives for Research & Development (R&D) solutions
